

OUR HISTORY

In 2017, the Immigrant & Refugee Center of Northern Colorado began as a combined operation between Right to Read of Weld County and the Global Refugee Center. Becoming one, larger organization made sense for a variety of reasons, but it was the opportunity to provide further services to our clients that made the decision easy. Rather than providing English language training to some clients and Community Navigation services to others, we knew that we could be reaching everyone by making our services into one efficient, effective process.

EDUCATIONAL SERVICES

Education is the foundation to the services we provide. We believe that through educating newcomers, we can cultivate an ethic of self-sufficiency as well as empower our clients to advocate for themselves socially, economically, and civically.

We offer English as a Second Language (ESL) courses levels 0–6, citizenship preparation courses, and GED courses on occasion.

Our classes are offered across multiple campuses Monday–Thursday in the mornings, afternoons, and evenings. Find our class schedule online at ircnoco.org/calendars-schedules

OUR IMPACT

Each year, IRCNoCo serves several thousand members of the community through education, community navigation, and advocacy combined. We believe that Northern Colorado should feel like a home to everyone who lives here and we are constantly working to make that belief a reality.

OUR MISSION

Empowering immigrants & refugees, connecting communities, and advocating for successful social integration.

COMMUNITY NAVIGATION

A fantastic team of community navigators is the backbone of our community navigation services. With approximately 10 different languages being spoken in our office, translation services are available to most of our clients—free of charge.

Our community navigation team also assists clients with other daily tasks they may encounter. To this end, our navigators have helped clients with thousands of tasks—everything from translating mail, setting up necessary appointments, assisting with immigration paperwork, to finding legal representation.
